ABOUT THE AREA

Akbuk is 23 km away from Didim centre, and 106 km away from Aydin city centre. Akbuk, which has a natural port, has 11 km of coastline. It is an ideal place for those who search for a unique and tranquil place with its gorgeous nature and beautiful coasts.

Akbuk has one of the cleanest air in Turkey and crystal clear waters. As the area is not heavily populated, it offers a pretty frame with thick forests and blue waters.

This coast has become a very popular holiday resort, known for its long sandy beaches, clear blue sea, ancient ruins, and its own microclimate, benefiting from hundreds of days of sun annually and warm winters, allowing residents to use the beaches and engage in water sports even in January. Less frequented beaches are ones further from the centre, such as Haydar, along a dirt road around the shore of Akbuk

(meaning 'white bay').
