Sellers view point 'A rare opportunity to acquire a much sought after, superior family home in Park Chase, an extremely popular, established Greater London setting, convenient to all amenities including the world-famous Wembley Stadium and ample public transport services. The characterful front façade of the property benefits from ample car parking space and a forward-facing vista over low-rise, bungalow developments, enhancing the feeling of space and with an absence of the usual, city-like sense of enclosure.

To the rear, an excellent, extensive, secluded garden provides an oasis of peace and privacy, enclosed on all sides, close to the heart of the throbbing London metropolis.'

Park Chase, an elegant, secluded location in the, much sought after, Wembley Park suburb of London, is a street of quality residential properties within a 12 minute train ride to the very heart of our capital city.

The 'Chase' properties benefit from the aspect of a low building to both the front and rear of the houses, not dwarfed or overlooked by the high-rise profile of much of London. No 19 is a superior property with a pleasing exterior style and frontage, including a garage, and ample space for multiple-car parking. To the rear is a beautiful, secluded garden from which the world-famous Wembley Arch, although some distance away, magically appears close at hand, establishing an unmistakable sense of location. The area has a full range of essential shopping outlets, and easy access to Airports, the national motorway system, schools, and local bus and train services.

Dimensions: Internally, the property is beautifully proportioned with spacious reception and bedrooms, benefitting from an unusually high element of natural light in all rooms.

Extention Potential: This desirable property offers the possibility of further space enhancement, the integral garage being ideal for the addition of, at least, two further bedrooms or amenity rooms on the first floor (subject to appropriate planning permission). In addition, there is a potential to extend using a loft conversion.

ABOUT THE AREA

Wembley is a large suburb in north-west London, England, 8 miles (13 km) northwest of Charing Cross. It includes the neighborhoods of Alperton, North Wembley, Preston, Sudbury, Tokyngton and Wembley

Park. The population was 102,856 in 2011.

Wembley is home to England's most famous sports destination, but there's much more to this large north-west London suburb than football. One of London's most multicultural and diverse communities, the area has seen a tremendous transformation over the last two decades. Wembley is located 8 miles (13km) northwest of Charing Cross. The suburb includes the neighborhoods of Alperton, North Wembley, Preston, Sudbury, Tokyngton, and Wembley Park, and has excellent transport links. There are a fantastic range of amenities, several hospitals, sporting facilities, and green spaces. Plus, there is a good selection of schools.

Wembley was for over 800 years part of the parish of Harrow on the Hill in Middlesex. Its heart, Wembley Green, was surrounded by agricultural manors and their hamlets. The small, narrow, Wembley High Street is a conservation area. The railways of the London & Birmingham Railway reached Wembley in the mid-19th century, when the place gained its first church. Slightly south-west of the old core, the main station was originally called Sudbury, but today is known as Wembley Central. By the 1920s, the nearby long High Road hosted a wide array of shops and Wembley was a large suburb of London.
