ABOUT THE AREA

Puerto Escondido, nestled on the Pacific coast of Oaxaca, Mexico, is a vibrant and increasingly popular beach destination known for its captivating blend of world-class surfing, authentic Mexican culture, and breathtaking natural beauty. Once a quieter fishing village, it has blossomed into a dynamic hub for travelers seeking both adrenaline-pumping waves and serene relaxation. The town's laid-back atmosphere, combined with its stunning golden-sand beaches and vibrant culinary scene, makes it a magnet for surfers, backpackers, families, and those simply looking to escape to a coastal paradise.

The allure of Puerto Escondido extends beyond its famous Zicatela Beach, often dubbed the 'Mexican Pipeline' for its powerful and challenging surf breaks. Beyond the professional surf scene, the town offers a variety of beaches catering to all preferences. Playa Carrizalillo, with its calmer waters, is ideal for swimming and beginner surf lessons, while Playa La Punta offers a bohemian vibe, smaller waves, and incredible sunset views. The area also boasts unique natural attractions like the bioluminescent Manialtepec Lagoon, where visitors can experience a magical night swim amidst glowing plankton, and opportunities for whale and dolphin watching, especially between December and March.

The economy of Puerto Escondido is heavily reliant on tourism, a sector that has seen significant growth in recent years. The town's charm lies in its resistance to becoming an overly commercialized resort town, instead maintaining an authentic Mexican feel with a prevalence of boutique hotels, guesthouses, and local eateries. This focus on local charm, coupled with a relatively lower cost of living compared to other Mexican tourist hotspots, makes it an attractive destination for both short-term visitors and those considering a longer stay or real estate investment. The ongoing development of infrastructure, including highway upgrades, further contributes to its accessibility and appeal.

For travelers looking to reach this Oaxacan gem, the most convenient option is to fly directly into Puerto Escondido International Airport (PXM), which is located just a few minutes northwest of the town center. PXM offers direct flights from major Mexican cities such as Mexico City (MEX), Guadalajara (GDL), and Monterrey (MTY), as well as a direct flight from Houston (IAH) with United. Other nearby airports include Bahias de Huatulco International Airport (HUX), approximately 87 km away, and Oaxaca International Airport (OAX), located about 131 km from Puerto Escondido, both offering additional flight connections, though requiring a longer ground transfer.
