San Martin de Tor is one of the five Ladin municipalities in Val Badia. It comprises the villages of Pikolein, Campill and Untermoi and covers an area of around 76 km², ranging from 1,115 m to 1,515 m above sea level. The highest part of the village is Untermoi at the foot of the Peitlerkofel, the village's local mountain. The place name St. Martin was used for the first time in documents dating back to 1260, in connection with a church.

The unspoilt municipality has around 1,700 inhabitants and is so popular not least because of its location in the Dolomites. Culture is also very important here - St. Martin in Thurn is home to the Ladin regional museum Ciastel de Tor and the Ladin cultural institute Micurà de Rü. Visitors to Campill can also visit the mill valley with its "Viles", one of the most original types of settlement in this area. Nature is another attraction in St. Martin in Thurn - the Puez-Geisler Nature Park and the "pale mountains" offer space for recreation in all seasons.

In winter, it's off to the slopes! The connection to the Kronplatz ski area is just 1 km from St. Martin. The slopes of the Sellaronda in Alta Badia can also be reached by shuttle every 20 minutes. Cross-country skiers can enjoy the 6.5 km long panoramic trail at the foot of the Peitlerkofel. St. Martin in Thurn - a successful combination of culture and nature that will make your vacation unforgettable.
