Continuing up to the second level via a small staircase, but where there is the possibility of a larger opening and placing a similar staircase helping this way the communication between the two levels. The reason for this is that on the second level, in the past, operated as the village traditional cafe in front of the traditional railway station and the lines of Ano Gatzea (Dekiriko Station). The second level, then, is a single empty space with an unlimited view of the mountain and the sea that provides the possibility to anyone who is interested either to operate it as a shop or as a loft with the necessary compartmentalization. Access to the property is via a traditional stone path, where the car reaches a point. There is also a second access, which is used by all the residents of the area and this is by asphalt, cement road . The traditional character of the building, its position (highest point of the village) and its perspective and possibilities make it the ideal choice for a holiday home or for exploitation, as it is located in a totally greeny village perched on a slope of Pelion, nestled in the olive groves with unlimited view of the sea from every corner of the village that takes your breath away. The cobblestones connect with Kato Gatzea, thus offering walks of perfect beauty and contact with the mythical Pelionian nature. in addition, the stone-built bridge where the traditional Pelion train passes, the old olive press, the Olive and Olive Oil Museum are some extra reasons that add and increase the interest of attendance and accommodation.
