Περιγραφή:

Poreč is a popular summer resort on the coast of the Istrian Peninsula in western Croatia. In the historic old town, the 6th-century Euphrasian Basilica complex is famous for its gem-studded Byzantine mosaics. Near the beach, Materada, and close to the Poreč city center, this house of 160 m² provides three apartments with a total of four bedrooms. The house consists of the ground floor, first floor, and attic.

A two-bedroom apartment is located on the ground floor.

Two one-bedroom flats are located on the first level. In the 1980s, the home was constructed.

The house is not inhabited and can be taken into possession immediately. The load-bearing walls are constructed of block brick. Concrete slab floors. Timber roof structure. Pitched roof covered with clay tiles.

This residence is surrounded by shops, café bars, banks, schools, kindergartens, post offices, museums, parishes, churches, medical buildings, and nightclubs. It is located just 2 kilometers from Poreč's downtown area. Materada Beach is just 0.26 kilometers away. The local surroundings feature both historical and natural attractions:
