ABOUT THE AREA

Castelar da Alvorada is located in the village of Caeté Açu known as Vale do Capão, on the slopes of the Serra de Sincorá national park in Chapada Diamantina, Bahia.

Its exuberant nature reveals itself in beautiful landscapes offering trails that lead to still preserved ecological sanctuaries with options such as the Fumaça waterfalls, Riachinho, Gavião well, Rodas. There is also a rappelling and climbing area for beginners and trained people.

The place also has several restaurants in the center of the village. There is a good gastronomic variety, from Salvadoran cuisine to bistros, pizzerias, pubs and street food. On Sunday mornings, the Capão fair takes place, with an exhibition of handicrafts, capoeira and a variety of food, generally organic and vegetarian, becoming a cultural meeting point. There are musical and theater performances at Circo do Capão, a chorinho circle, singing and dancing circles in various spaces in the Valley, as well as holistic, floral therapies, massage, temazcal (Sacred Sauna), meditation centers, yoga, etc. making the tourist's stay a unique experience, enjoying the natural beauty, good cuisine, cultural attractions and leisure, health and self-knowledge options available.

Nature in Alvorada reveals itself in the stunning landscape of the mountains, in the silence of the countryside, in the small landscape details integrating art, ecology and physical practices, walking, body movements, swimming, ping-pong, playground. Most of the Castelar da Alvorada area preserves the riparian forest, and you can see various types of birds and small wild animals (squirrels, hawks, foxes, armadillos, lion tamarins, deer... in its surroundings.

Caeté-Açu: The Ecological Paradise of the Vale do Capão

In the heart of the Chapada Diamantina, Bahia, lies the Vale do Capão, a region of stunning natural beauty. Amidst this stunning scenery, lies the small village of Caeté-Açu, a true ecological paradise.

Caeté-Açu is a hamlet of about 200 inhabitants, located about 100 km from the town of Palmeiras. The village is surrounded by mountains, waterfalls, rivers, and forests, offering an idyllic setting for nature lovers.

The main attraction of Caeté-Açu is the Cachoeira da Fumaça, one of the largest waterfalls in Brazil, with a height of 340 meters. The waterfall is accessible by a trail of about 4 km, which offers beautiful views of the valley.

Other natural attractions of Caeté-Açu include the Cachoeira do Riachinho, the Cachoeira da Poção, the Cachoeira do Ribeirão do Meio, and the Cachoeira do Sossego. The region is also rich in trails, which allow you to explore the diversity of ecosystems of the Chapada Diamantina.

In addition to its natural beauty, Caeté-Açu is also an ideal destination for those looking for a simpler and more sustainable life. The village is an example of an ecological community, with residents who live in harmony with nature.

The economy of Caeté-Açu is based on tourism, agriculture, and livestock. The village is also an important center for handicraft production, with emphasis on wood and ceramic pieces.

Caeté-Açu is a must-see destination for those who want to experience the beauty and diversity of the Chapada Diamantina. The village offers a unique experience that combines nature, culture, and sustainability.
