Περιγραφή:

Even before purchasing the property in 2018, the current owner lived in the immediate vicinity – a clear sign of the excellent location in the heart of Medellín. Enthusiasm for the area and increasing demand gradually led to the creation of a successful guesthouse, which is now very popular with international students, sports groups, and tourists alike.

Opposite the house is Medellín's central stadium – a venue for numerous sporting tournaments, which ensures consistently high demand for group accommodation.

A dedicated website is currently being completed, where guests can view all apartments in a gallery, book, and pay directly. Thanks to synchronization with the booking calendars of Airbnb and Booking.com, a seamless, efficient booking system without the risk of overbooking is possible.
