Περιγραφή:

Nestled in the picturesque hills of the Maule region, south of Santiago, lies this extraordinary winery with a total area of 343 hectares. Surrounded by rolling hills and crisscrossed by a sophisticated technical irrigation system, it is an oasis for wine lovers and agricultural investors alike.

Over 194 hectares are planted with noble red and white grape varieties, lovingly tended and high-yielding, many of which have been established for over two decades. The climatic conditions, micro-relief, and sandy-loamy soil structure create ideal conditions for high-quality grape ripening. A natural lagoon and the special microclimate ensure the characteristic freshness and expressiveness of the wines.
