Investment and creation opportunity in a privileged environment.

This 760 m² farmhouse, distributed over three floors, opens up a range of possibilities for those who wish to design their own space or develop a residential project. It sits on an imposing plot of 50,000 m², large enough to design gardens, leisure or cultivation areas and, at the same time, preserve large green areas.

The property has a license to build up to four independent homes, making it an attractive option for both a multigenerational family project and a property development initiative.

Its state of comprehensive refurbishment allows us to start from scratch and define a custom-made layout, finishes and architectural character, taking advantage of the existing solid volumetry.

In short, a large-scale blank canvas where you can materialise your vision and add value in an enclave that combines nature, space and future projection.
