Location and Points of Interest :

Located in the parish of Quinta do Anjo, about 40 km from Lisbon, Palmela is a village that invites you to discover true natural and historical treasures.

Nearby are the Serra da Arrábida Natural Park and the Sado Estuary Nature Reserve, two must-see destinations for nature lovers.

At the highest point of the village stands its imposing Castle, of Islamic origin, conquered by D. Afonso Henriques in the twelfth century. Inside the walls, it is possible to visit the old Convent of the Order of Santiago, current headquarters of the Historic Inn of Palmela, as well as the ruins of the Church of Santa Maria, among other heritage landmarks.

Connecting the castle to the historic center, the Venâncio Ribeiro da Costa Park, created in the first half of the twentieth century, stands out, an ideal green space for quiet walks.

Another point of interest is the Mother House of the Wine Route, located in the heart of the village. A stunning former winery, today it houses the tourist information office dedicated to wine tourism, celebrating the region's strong winemaking tradition.

In addition to the wines, Palmela also has another striking symbol: the windmills. Scattered especially throughout the Serra do Louro, they are living testimonies of other times and offer picturesque landscapes.
