BELVEDER:

Belveder is one of the 'most practical' neighborhoods in the city of Rijeka. It is small in size and is located almost in the city center, and its name literally translates from Italian as 'beautiful view'. The place that even the Pope chose to visit our country can boast the Theological Seminary 'John Paul II'. It is also characterized by the great accessibility of schools and kindergartens and the Belveder Sports and Recreation Center as a protected cultural object. The advantages of this part of the city are the availability of necessary facilities, proximity to the city center, workplace, hospital and schools.
