Luxury Barn Renovation with 2 Houses for Sale in Saint-Genies-de-Fontedit, France

Set within the picturesque and authentic rural village of Saint-Genies-de-Fontedit in the heart of the Herault department, this extraordinary real estate opportunity features a pair of high-end homes created from a historic French grange (barn) dating back over 200 years. Originally acquired, meticulously reimaged, and extensively renovated by a renowned designer and builder, no expense has been spared in transforming this landmark property into a sanctuary of architectural distinction, effortless functionality, and uncompromising quality. Although designed to the developer's exacting standards, the residences are brand-new, completely unused, and ready for their very first owners.

The restoration perfectly balances rich historic character with state-of-the-art contemporary living. Both residences, original soaring timber beams, exposed stone, and structural heritage elements throughout have been expertly preserved and integrated alongside hyper-modern materials, custom finishes, and exceptional craftsmanship. Designed from the ground up to offer a completely maintenance-free lifestyle, the estate features artificial lawn areas, robust exterior finishes, fully automated irrigation systems for hassle-free garden plant watering, and two private swimming pools equipped with automated cleaning robots. Every facet of the build reflects precision engineering, backed by a comprehensive 10-year builder's guarantee for total peace of mind. Both homes are offered with the option to be purchased fully furnished at an additional cost, allowing for an immediate turnkey transition.

The Main Residence: Historic Character Meets Grand Family Living

The larger of the two adjoining homes boasts three substantial bedrooms and expansive open-plan living spaces bathed in natural sunlight. At the heart of the home sits a dramatic family kitchen and dining area, professionally equipped with brand-new, pristine appliances, sleek stone surfaces, and bespoke cabinetry designed to accommodate large gatherings and effortless entertaining.

The main living areas showcase magnificent exposed roof trusses and original stonework, juxtaposed with clean modern lines, polished finishes, and underfoot comfort. Moving billboards through large opening glass doors leads directly to a private courtyard featuring its own dedicated swimming pool—a secluded oasis designed for summer dining and absolute relaxation. This residence also benefits from a spacious, fully fitted garage complete with an integrated electric vehicle (EV) charging point and direct internal access.

The Second Residence: Independent Guest House or High-Yield Rental

Directly adjoining the main residence, yet entirely independent in both layout and access, is an equally luxurious two-bedroom home. Designed with the exact same dedication to high-end craftsmanship and premium materials, this property offers complete privacy for extended family, guests, or tenants.

Featuring its own private entrance, fully equipped kitchen, elegant living area, private garage, and its own dedicated swimming pool, this self-contained residence operates completely autonomously from the main house. The independent layout presents a rare, flexible configuration ideal for multi-generational living, hosting visiting friends, or generating exceptional rental returns.

Unmatched Investment Potential

For the discerning investor, this dual-residence estate represents a rare financial opportunity in the South of France. Given the region's booming tourist appeal and high demand for boutique luxury accommodations, operating one or both properties as high-end holiday rentals yields an estimated return of 10% to 15% annually.

Whether utilized as a primary residence with a lucrative income-generating side unit, a multi-family holiday compound, or a fully managed commercial rental portfolio, the combination of unused brand-new builds, maintenance-free grounds, automated garden irrigation, top-tier amenities, and separate private pools maximizes guest appeal and rental rates season after season.
