Set just 150 meters from the crystal-clear Adriatic Sea and an almost private beach, this exceptional five-bedroom luxury villa offers a rare blend of traditional Mediterranean architecture and modern high-end living. Situated in Rogac on the pristine island of Šolta—the most preserved and authentic island near Split—this property sits directly beside Kasjun Bay, widely regarded as the most beautiful bay on the island's northeast side. From its elevated vantage point, the villa commands panoramic, breathtaking views extending across the turquoise waters toward Split, Čiovo island, and the dramatic Biokovo mountain range.

The exterior and interior structures feature high-grade thermal isolation (10 cm wall insulation), premium double-glazed windows, integrated air conditioning throughout, and underfloor heating for optimal year-round comfort.

The expansive layout spans multiple levels, offering versatile living spaces suitable for a private family residence or a lucrative investment asset:

ABOUT THE AREA

Rogac is a charming coastal village situated on the northern coast of Šolta island, a tranquil Croatian gem in the Adriatic Sea. Nestled in a deep, sheltered bay surrounded by pine trees and olive groves, Rogac serves as the main port and primary gateway to the island. Its history reaches back to Roman times, when it served as an ancient port, and its name is derived from the carob tree (rogac in Croatian) that grows abundantly throughout the area.

As Šolta's main transportation hub, Rogac connects the island directly to the Dalmatian mainland via daily car ferries and passenger catamarans departing from the city of Split. Despite its functional status as a harbor complete with a waterfront promenade, small local amenities, and a gas station, Rogac retains a peaceful, authentic village atmosphere without the heavy tourist crowds seen on larger neighboring islands.

Beyond the ferry docks, the bay reveals clear, turquoise waters framed by secluded pebble beaches like Banja and Kasjun, ideal for swimming and relaxing. Visitors can sample local carob treats, explore nearby coastal walking trails, or take short bus connections directly from the port to higher inland villages like Grohote or quiet coastal spots like Maslinica and Stomorska.

The nearest airport to Rogac and Šolta island is Split Airport (SPU), located on the mainland about 22 kilometers from the Split ferry port. Travelers arriving at Split Airport can easily take a quick shuttle bus, taxi, or direct boat transfer to the ferry port, where a 30-minute catamaran or 55-minute car ferry ride finishes the journey directly into Rogac.
