Περιγραφή:

Sue Cox Inmobiliaria is pleased to offer for sale this authentic Canarian property located in the peaceful village of Soo built around 1974.

Embracing the soul of traditional island architecture, this character-filled 162 m2 home sits on an expansive 1,200 m2 plot, offering dramatic volcanic views and a direct connection to the surrounding rural landscape.

The dwelling itself is a genuine piece of Lanzarote's history, featuring original heritage details, traditional water cistern (aljibe), and a charming enclosed internal patio. This covered central space serves as a cozy focal point inside the house, drawing in light while offering shelter and warmth year-round. Outside, the generous land surrounding the property provides a fantastic blank canvas for landscaping, gardens, or custom outdoor entertaining areas to make the most of the tranquil village pace.

While the property requires comprehensive modernization and renovation, main water and electricity supplies are already connected. This allows a new owner to reside in the property from day one and undertake improvements progressively, bringing out its full character and structural potential over time. Please note that this property is currently unregistered in the Property Registry (Registro de la Propiedad).

Location

Nestled at the foot of the iconic Las Campanas mountain in the municipality of Tegui, Soo is a charming, unspoiled village that captures the authentic, laid-back spirit of rural Lanzarote. Known for its surrounding sand dunes, rolling volcanic landscapes, and dramatic sunsets over the Atlantic, Soo offers a peaceful retreat away from the busy tourist hubs. While enjoying a quiet, traditional village atmosphere with local shops and a welcoming community Teleclub, Soo is exceptionally well-connected. It sits just a short drive from the famous surfing beaches of Famara and La Santa, making it an ideal location for nature lovers, outdoor enthusiasts, and those seeking a genuine piece of island life.
