Sozopol is an old Big Town in the southeastern part of the country. According to the classic of the genre of Bulgarian cities, it is divided into two parts: new and old. The sights of Sozopol are mainly concentrated in its old part: there are tombs, ancient Temples, remains of an amphitheatre and local museums.

In 1974.the old part of the town has been declared an architectural and archaeological reserve. There are 200 rare buildings in the Renaissance style. The foundations are lined with stone, and the brick walls are lined with wood. The roofs are covered with quality Turkish tiles. The town is surrounded by a medieval fortress wall with towers, partially restored. Also here are the ancient Byzantine granary, a water supply dating from the 5th century BC.N. well., wooden well from 0-0 centuries BC. N. well., chapel from 0-0 centuries.
