the west until the village of Kellaki. The total area of plot 394 is 4683 square metres.

Ora is a village in the Larnaka Mountains a few kilometres after the villages of Lagiea and Vavla. Like all the villages in the mountainous regions, Ora was also very much hit by the urban settlement, with some 150 permanent residents remaining. During the summer with the return of the emigrants, the inhabitants of Oras multiply.

The village of Ora is built among dozens of towering mountain peaks and you have the opportunity to see it and admire its beauty. Ora is a very beautiful village, all the houses are built using the same architectural style

About the Area

Larnaca has many local attractions to offer including architectural, museums, religious, shopping centres, tourist venues and more. The Agios Lazarus Church is worth a visit. The Church dates back to the 9th century. The Church is part of the Greek Orthodox faith and comes under the 'Church of Cyprus' group. The Church exudes history and visitors enjoying Christian and architectural heritage will want to make this a part of any trip to Larnaca.

Cyprus' east coast has a reputation for being something of an insomniac. Over the years, the lively town of Ayia Napa has really earned its nightlife stripes, thanks to a neon strip full of bars and nightclubs. But all-night partying is just one chapter in the Larnaca region's story. This part of Cyprus has plenty for couples and families, as well.

Family favourite, Nissi Beach, is about a mile up the road from Ayia Napa. This town has a golden beach, a massive waterpark, and a leafy waterfront promenade, where you can sample every style of cuisine within earshot of the waves. The town of Protaras, about 15 minutes' drive from Nissi Beach, tends to spark a love-at-first-sight reaction for couples. This place is defined by vine-wrapped tavernas and some of the prettiest coastal spots in the region. Away from the big resorts, Larnaca is an unexplored region of rocky plains and sprawling fields scattered with windmills and wild flowers. It's a haven for walkers, and for those who fancy filling up a picnic basket and heading for the lemon trees.
