ABOUT THE AREA

Guysborough is located on the scenic Marine Drive halfway between Canso and Port Hawkesbury at the head of Chedabucto Bay. Guysborough County is one of the largest counties in Nova Scotia. About 500 people live in this picturesque village and although small, Guysborough is the backbone for a number of communities in the surrounding area. It is the administrative centre for the County as well as the main meeting place for community events.

Some of the most popular things to do in Guysborough include:

- * Visiting the Canso Islands National Historic Site, which is home to the remains of a French fort from the 17th century.
- * Hiking in the Guysborough County Wilderness Area, which is home to a variety of wildlife, including moose, deer, and black bears.
- * Kayaking or canoeing in Guysborough Harbour, which is a beautiful body of water with stunning views of the coastline.
- * Visiting the Guysborough Museum, which has exhibits on the history of the town and county.
- * Attending one of the many festivals and events that are held in Guysborough throughout the year, such as the Guysborough County Exhibition and the Lobster Festival.

If you are looking for a beautiful and welcoming place to visit, Guysborough is a great option. The town has something to offer everyone, from history buffs to nature lovers to foodies.
