ABOUT THE AREA

Iskele, often referred to as Trikomo, is a rapidly developing coastal town situated on the eastern side of North Cyprus, distinguishing itself as a prime area for tourism and real estate investment. Known for its picturesque Long Beach—a vast stretch of golden sand and clear blue waters—Iskele offers a relaxed Mediterranean atmosphere that is distinct from the bustling hubs of Kyrenia and Famagusta. The region is characterized by a harmonious blend of traditional Cypriot villages and modern residential complexes and resorts, many of which cater to both holidaymakers and international property buyers seeking seaside living. Its strategic location makes it an ideal gateway to the natural beauty of the untouched Karpaz Peninsula.

The town itself and the surrounding area have undergone significant expansion, leading to a vibrant community with growing amenities. While maintaining its charm, Iskele now provides excellent infrastructure, including supermarkets, restaurants, and medical facilities. The area is celebrated for its low crime rate, family-friendly environment, and strong sense of community, factors that contribute greatly to its rising popularity. Events and cultural festivals throughout the year further enrich the local life, making it a dynamic place to live or visit. The appeal of Iskele lies in its ability to offer tranquil beach life while remaining connected to larger towns and international access points.

For travelers heading to Iskele and the eastern region of North Cyprus, the most direct and convenient point of entry is Ercan International Airport (ECN). Located near the capital, Nicosia (Lefkosa), ECN is the primary airport serving the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus and is approximately a 40 to 50-minute drive from Iskele. It handles all major passenger traffic to the north, though all international flights to Ercan must include a brief touch-down or transit in Turkey. From ECN, visitors can easily arrange taxi services, private transfers, or car rentals for the final leg of their journey.

Alternatively, many international visitors choose to fly directly to Larnaca International Airport (LCA), which is situated in the Republic of Cyprus (South Cyprus). Larnaca is a popular option due to its wider selection of direct international flights from various global destinations. From LCA, the journey to Iskele requires a crossing of the Green Line border. This is a straightforward process, typically handled by pre-arranged private taxis or shuttle services that transfer passengers across the checkpoint, with the total travel time being roughly comparable to the transfer from Ercan. Paphos International Airport (PFO) is also an option, but it is significantly further from Iskele and generally less recommended due to longer transfer times.
