Descripción:

In the heart of the historic center of Spoleto, overlooking the main street and the city's landmark monuments, you will find a 215 sqm apartment located on the third floor of a period building, restored in the early 2000s. Here you experience the center with authenticity, surrounded by culture, services and easily accessible connections, in a setting that combines privacy with vibrant urban living. From the outside, the building preserves the traditional historic character typical of Umbria: masonry facade, regular openings, and direct views over the central streets. Schools, artisan shops, restaurants and cultural venues are all within walking distance. There is no private parking, with public parking available in the surrounding areas. The apartment occupies the top level of the building and is laid out on a single floor, with articulated spaces and internal variations that enhance the original architectural layout. The entrance opens onto a spacious hallway that functionally distributes the seven rooms in total. The living area includes three reception rooms, one of which features a fireplace, designed to host convivial gatherings and elegant entertaining. Generous ceiling heights, exposed wooden beams and split levels create architectural dynamism. Large windows frame charming views over the rooftops and the main street, providing natural light throughout the day. The kitchen, arranged lengthwise and also equipped with a fireplace, benefits from an independent entrance from the stairwell, a detail that recalls the original organization of historic residences. The layout allows for functional customization, with an integrated dining area. The sleeping area comprises two bedrooms and one bathroom. One of the rooms features a practical mezzanine with an additional bathroom, ideal as a reading nook or workspace.

Historical building subject to complete restoration of its common areas and structural elements. The ceilings with exposed wooden beams represent a distinctive feature, capable of conveying character and continuity with the history of the building. Possibility of restyling to achieve a more contemporary and refined result.

The apartment is equipped with all utilities, with heating powered by natural gas.

The spaces on multiple levels, featuring grand salons, a study, and versatile rooms, are ideally suited as a prestigious primary residence or a home for extended stays. The historic setting and layout allow for B&B activities, tourist rentals, or a period residence for hospitality use.
