Descripción:

In a scenic location, with 126 hectares of land with restored farmhouses for country resort, barns and annexes to restore, for sale near Montalcino. In the heart of the Val d'Orcia, a short distance from Montalcino, lies a 126-hectare estate surrounding a 1,198-square-meter country complex featuring stone farmhouses, barns, and annexes, some converted into four apartments offering a total of nine bedrooms. The interiors are bright and welcoming, featuring exposed wooden beam ceilings, living areas with fireplaces, and an enchanting view of the countryside. All rooms are equipped with air conditioning. Outside, the garden flows seamlessly into the landscape, leading the eye to the swimming pool, elegantly integrated into the surroundings and perfectly oriented to enjoy the light and sunsets that make this part of Tuscany. The property is complemented by a series of agricultural annexes, including barns, sheds, and a stable with a lean-to, which expand the estate's potential, offering versatile spaces for agricultural activities, equestrian pursuits, or additional units for agritourism. A dilapidated outbuilding presents further opportunities for restoration, in line with a vision for the property's future development. The land comprises 86 hectares of arable land, 6 hectares of pasture, and 34 hectares of woodland, along with a well and a private lake. While ensuring absolute privacy, the location offers easy access to amenities and major transportation links, just 6 km away. A property that elegantly embodies the finest spirit of the Tuscan countryside, ideal for those seeking a charming retreat or a prestigious investment in the heart of one of Italy's most iconic landscapes.
