With 2,125sqm of flat land, classified as Complementary Agricultural Land, with the possibility of building agricultural support 64mts, this property in Ribamar stands out not only for its privileged location, but also for its remarkable strategic potential.

With no known restrictions and located just a few meters from the urban area, it offers characteristics that are becoming increasingly rare to find in Portugal's West Coast region.

Electricity and water are already at the entrance of the land.

Easy access.

Natural surroundings.

And a sea view that is simply unforgettable.
