ABOUT THE AREA

Batumi is a vibrant coastal city located in the southwestern region of Georgia along the shore of the Black Sea. As the capital of the Autonomous Republic of Adjara, it serves as Georgia's primary sea trade hub and a top resort destination. The city seamlessly blends rich regional history with modern architectural ambition, featuring a mild subtropical climate that draws visitors year-round for coastal relaxation and mountain exploration.

The skyline of modern Batumi is defined by striking futuristic architecture standing alongside historic charm. Futuristic skyscrapers, lavish international hotels, and quirky designs like the Alphabet Tower contrast with the restored 19th-century facade of Old Batumi. The city center radiates outward from Europe Square and Piazza Square, which host lively cafes, public performances, and European-inspired architectural details.

A centerpiece of the city is the Batumi Boulevard, a lush promenade stretching over 7 kilometers along the coastline. Decorated with palm trees, seaside parks, bike paths, and kinetic art sculptures like the iconic 'Ali and Nino,' the boulevard serves as the heart of social life. Beyond the shoreline, visitors explore nearby natural attractions like the extensive Batumi Botanical Garden perched over the cliffside cliffs of the Green Cape.

The nearest airport serving the city is Alexander Kartveli Batumi International Airport (BUS). Located just about 4 to 8 kilometers south of the city center, it sits directly along the right bank of the Chorokhi River. The short drive into downtown Batumi takes approximately 10 to 20 minutes by municipal bus (#10) or local taxi.
