توضیحات:

Discover unique rooftop living at Huttenstr. 71 in Berlin, where 8 penthouse units are currently available for sale. These apartments offer a remarkable living experience with open-plan kitchens, private roof terraces, and luxurious finishes. With completed units ready for occupancy in August, you can soon enjoy the convenience and comfort of these exceptional spaces.

Designed with sustainability in mind, the apartments utilize air source heat pumps for efficient heating and individual temperature control. This innovative feature ensures energy savings of up to 35% compared to traditional gas systems. Additionally, the apartments boast an energy-efficient design, qualifying them for subsidies and low-interest loans through the KfW 297/298 program. By investing in these apartments, you not only embrace a greener future but also gain financial advantages that align with your sustainable values.

Introducing an exquisite apartment. The well-designed layout encompasses a captivating open kitchen seamlessly blending with the living area, creating a perfect ambiance for hosting gatherings. A separate bathroom with a bathtub adds convenience. The master bedroom offers a tranquil space to relax and rejuvenate, while the generous terrace provides ample room for outdoor leisure and socializing.
