توضیحات:

This rustico is hidden away between the sea and the green hills of Tuscany. Just four kilometers from the seashore, surrounded by the beautiful sandy beaches of Cala di Forno and Collelungo, this property is the perfect home for lovers of the sea and nature. The rustico, which was originally built in 1930 and carefully renovated in the 1990s, impresses from the outside with its rustic charm. But it is the interior that reveals the full splendor and elegance that this property radiates.

The spacious, furnished living room on the first floor is a particular highlight. Here, an open fireplace from the 17th century invites you to linger and creates an atmosphere full of comfort and warmth. The kitchen is also located on the first floor and offers enough space to create culinary works of art. On the upper floor of the house there are a total of six spacious bedrooms, all furnished with high-quality antique furniture that perfectly matches the ambience of the house and makes it a true oasis of well-being. Four bathrooms round off the spaciousness of the main house and offer plenty of room for personal development.

In addition to this remarkable main building, the plot of around 3 hectares offers an outbuilding that once served as a pigsty and can now be converted into another living space with a little creativity. An 80 m² garage is available for your vehicles, as well as several parking spaces on the property.

One of the biggest advantages of this property is its secluded location, which offers a very high level of privacy and thus creates an oasis of peace and relaxation. In addition, there is the possibility of building a swimming pool so that you can enjoy the pleasure of swimming in good weather.
