PROSPECTS

The advantages of Cyprus as a tourist resort are evident and recognized. The strategic location of the island, at the cross roads of three continents, and its extremely mild climate, with a wealth of archeological and other cultural treasures are already known worldwide. Tourism has been the main source of income for the island of Cyprus for many years.

Paphos is a major tourist center of Cyprus. It is more of a year-round destination compared to the other towns and attracts more tourists in the winter months. This is mostly due to its natural beauty and the warm hospitality of its people. It was the last district to undergo substantial and rapid development, thus preserving its original beautiful character.

Furthermore the accession of Cyprus into the European Community has given a new boost to the tourist industry. Paphos was selected by UNESCO to be European Capital of Culture (ECOC) in 2017. Consequently extensive urban regeneration is carried out in the center of upper Paphos in the urban area.

The tourism in Paphos is believed to increase in the forthcoming years, since Paphos has got the potential and the necessary infrastructure to accommodate extensive tourist needs.

The completion of the new motorway to Paphos, the improvement of the district road network, the expected construction of the new Marina and the upgrade of the Paphos International airport (2nd International Airport of Cyprus), make Paphos easily accessible, let alone the in-rush of tourists from nearby countries such as ISRAEL. Bus stops close to hotel.

The stringent regulations imposed by the Cyprus Sub Ministry of Tourism (Ex CTO) for new tourist developments, make this Hotel acquire increased importance, and value. The Hotel is considered a viable unit, with good prospects for capital appreciation.
