Description:

Discreetly positioned on one of the West End's most exclusive cul-de-sacs, Ravensgarth Drive offers the kind of calm, generous living environment that makes family life feel effortless.

From the moment you step inside, the sense of space and balance is unmistakable. Wide hallways, large windows and a natural flow between rooms give the whole home a quiet confidence. This is a place where busy routines can unfold without getting in each other's way and where everyone still has space to come together at the end of the day.

The heart of the home is the open-plan kitchen and dining space, perfectly configured for everyday living, hosting friends, or simply opening the doors and letting the garden become part of the evening. It's a sociable, flexible space that makes mealtimes and celebrations feel like second nature.

The dual-aspect lounge offers a more relaxed setting; its cosy in winter, light-filled in summer, while the second reception room gives you options: a playroom, snug or media space depending on your lifestyle.

The ground floor fifth bedroom provides an ideal tucked away space for guests, with the addition of their own private bathroom adjacent to it.

Upstairs, the principal suite gives you a genuine sense of retreat, complete with its own dressing room and en-suite. The remaining bedrooms and generous family bathroom offer plenty of room for younger family members or visiting relatives. With the addition of a dedicated study, this is an ideal space for when work needs your full attention.

Outside, the setting is private and established, with a wide frontage, mature planting and an enclosed rear garden that's perfect for both relaxing and letting the kids run free. There's also ample driveway parking and an integrated double garage.

Just minutes from local schools, parkland, independent shops and commuter links, this is a home that offers the best of West End living - space to grow, room to breathe, and a lifestyle that works in every season.
