Pfelders - mountain idyll in the Passeier Valley

At the end of the picturesque Passeier Valley, surrounded by the mighty peaks of the Ötztal Alps and the Texel Group Nature Park, lies the small mountain village of Pfelders (ital. Plan) at an altitude of around 1,622 meters. The village belongs to the municipality of Moos in Passeier and is one of the most original and at the same time most hospitable mountain settlements in South Tyrol.

Pfelders is a car-free zone - the village was deliberately designed for gentle tourism. Visitors and locals get around the village on foot, by bike or, in winter, on skis. The streets are free of traffic noise, which guarantees exceptional tranquillity and clear, clean mountain air.

Summer in Pfelders

In the warmer months of the year, Pfelders is a true paradise for hikers, mountaineers and nature lovers. Numerous hiking trails lead directly from the village to alpine pastures, mountain lakes and high alpine peaks. Popular destinations include the Lazinsalm, the Hohe Wilde or the Spronser Seenplatte - one of the largest high mountain lake areas in Europe.

Mountain bikers and e-bikers will also find a variety of routes here, while families appreciate the easy panoramic trails and themed paths.

Winter in Pfelders

In winter, Pfelders is transformed into a compact, snow-sure ski area with modern lifts and perfectly groomed slopes. There are downhill runs for all ability levels, a natural toboggan run, cross-country ski trails and numerous opportunities for winter hikes and ski tours. Thanks to its manageable size, the ski area is particularly family-friendly and is an insider tip for connoisseurs and nature lovers.

Pfelders combines alpine originality with a high quality of life and is the ideal location for guests looking for peace, nature and authentic South Tyrolean mountain culture. The combination of gentle tourism, impressive scenery and an intact village community makes this place a special jewel in the Passeiertal Valley.
