Description:

Everybody loves the Dordogne, and with good reason. It has a heritage that is truly French yet popular with the British and offers plenty of sporting opportunities. The Bastide town of Eymet is full of old world charm, but offers modern day pleasures and is just 30 minutes from Bergerac airport.

This character, stone property comprises three units, the principal house and two gîtes. The main house is at some distance from the guest cottages, has its own swimming pool, terrace and enjoys open views across the countryside. Each of the gîtes has two bedrooms, a full kitchen and bathroom. The guest cottages have the use of a separate swimming pool and garden. Subject to the necessary permissions it would be ideal as a holiday letting business.

The properties sit in grounds of 3500m² (a little under an acre), a few minutes from a village which has a bakery, supermarket, bar and restaurant. For a wider selection, Eymet is about 10 minutes away by car. It is steeped in its history which dates back to the 13th C. The town has plenty of good shops, restaurants, coffee bars and a fantastic market every Thursday, which spills out of the central square down the quaint, narrow streets. The city of Bergerac is 30 minutes way but you won't need to make the trip there very often!
