Description:

Set within an elegantly renovated 19th-century complex, this spacious and bright executive office is move-in ready in Montepulciano, Siena. In the heart of one of Tuscany's most captivating locations, just a short distance from the historic center, this prestigious professional space is situated in a setting of immense architectural value. The complex, known as Antico Borgo, is the result of a refined restoration of an original 19th-century hospital—a traditional terracotta brick building protected by the Fine Arts Ministry, completed in 2016. The office is located on the raised ground floor, with an entrance via one of the internal access points of the central building, spanning an area of approximately 1,259,38 sq ft. / 127.8 sq m. The interiors are characterized by high ceilings with exposed wooden beams that provide warmth and prestige, while large windows offer exceptional natural light and a sense of openness, creating a unique and inspiring work environment. The internal layout, finished to the highest standards, has been designed for maximum professional efficiency: it includes a welcoming reception area, a dedicated meeting room, five private offices, an archive, and a bathroom. The property is equipped with air conditioning, an armored door, automatic shutters, an alarm system, and a reserved parking space. Beyond its high-end residences, the Borgo hosts an exclusive network of services, including banks, notary firms, medical centers, and premium retail such as a pharmacy and beauty salons, making this location a functional, high-level hub. This is a headquarters of great charm, where history and contemporary efficiency blend in a refined, timeless balance.
