Description:

Nine apartments in the historic centre of Silves, within a carefully rehabilitated building on Rua Dr. João de Meneses, in the lower streets of the old town beneath the castle. Silves is the former capital of the Algarve, a working Portuguese town of red sandstone walls, orange groves and the Arade river, with the cafés, market and restaurants of the centre a short walk from the door and the coast an easy drive away.

The building has been reworked in a palette drawn from the town itself: ochre-rendered façades, wood-effect and corten shutters, and terraces framed in frameless glass. Inside, a continuous ivory stone-look floor runs through each home, with walnut entrance doors, lacquered joinery and fully fitted Bosch kitchens. Bathrooms are calm and well considered, with GROHE fittings, rain showers and backlit mirrors. Every apartment has its own private parking.

It is a design-led project on a deliberately small scale, made for buyers who value how a home is put together and want a genuine Portuguese town rather than a coastal resort.
