Leírás:

Land for Sale | Votanikos, Athens

A rare corner plot of 272 sq.m. in one of Athens' fastest-evolving urban districts, offering the kind of fundamentals investors actively look for today.

Located within the city plan, just a short walk from Votanikos Square, this three-façade plot enjoys a 35-meter street frontage, flat morphology, and excellent accessibility—features that dramatically enhance both design flexibility and resale appeal.

With a building coefficient of 3, the property allows for high-density development, making it ideal for:

- Antiparochi (land-for-flats exchange)
- Modern residential apartments
- Urban income-producing projects
- Strategic land banking in a rising district

An existing old two-storey building currently stands on the plot and is intended for demolition, offering a clean redevelopment canvas. At the same time, the property generates €1,200/month in rental income, with the lease expiring on 19/01/2026, providing flexibility between short-term yield and medium-term development.

Votanikos

The area is undergoing continuous regeneration, supported by infrastructure upgrades, cultural projects, and expanding investor interest—placing it firmly among Athens’ next high-potential neighborhoods.

Location. Density. Timing.

This is an asset that works today and scales for tomorrow.

A compelling opportunity for developers, investors, or strategic partnerships seeking upside in central Athens.
