The Pyrenees-Orientales department (66) is basically the furthest south you can go in France before you arrive in Spain! It belongs, as the Aude, Hérault, Gard and Lozère do, to the Languedoc-Roussillon region. It shares borders with the Mediterranean sea to the east, the Aude to the north, Andorra and the Ariège department to the west and Spain to the south (more precisely with Spanish Catalonia).

The Pyrenees Orientales comprises of around 225 towns and villages. The main city is Perpignan and it has numerous stunning landscapes and a pleasant Mediterranean climate. The Pyrenees-Orientales region (formerly called Roussillon) belonged to Spain until 1659 and to this day many Spanish traditions are present there such as bullfighting, the Sardana dance, typical Spanish food (paella etc).

The Catalan language is also spoken by many people. Pyrenees-Orientales benefits from 300+ days of sun over the whole year, which explains its popularity amongst holidaymakers. Warm winds (mistral) are an essential part of the climate. The Pyrenees-Orientales department is also one of the few French regions in which tourists can enjoy both beautiful beaches and mountains.
