ABOUT THE AREA

Perched on a wide plateau in the northeast of Gozo, Xagħra is one of the island's most historically significant and picturesque villages. It is perhaps best known for housing the Ġgantija Temples, a UNESCO World Heritage site dating back to 3600 BC, making them older than the Pyramids of Giza. This ancient heritage gives the village a timeless atmosphere, where prehistoric megaliths stand in harmony with charming 18th-century architecture and lush Mediterranean landscapes.

The heart of the village revolves around Victory Square, a lively hub dominated by the magnificent Basilica of the Nativity of Our Lady. This square is the center of social life, lined with outdoor cafés and restaurants where locals and visitors gather to enjoy the slow pace of Gozitan life. Beyond the square, Xagħra offers unique natural wonders, including subterranean gems like Xerri's Grotto and Ninu's Cave, which feature remarkable stalactite and stalagmite formations discovered beneath private residences.

For nature lovers, Xagħra provides breathtaking views over the fertile Marsalforn Valley and down toward the iconic red sands of Ramla Bay, Gozo's finest beach. Legend says that Calypso's Cave, located on the edge of the village cliffs, is where the nymph Calypso entertained Homer's Odysseus for seven years. This blend of mythological allure, agricultural beauty, and coastal proximity makes Xagħra a premier destination for those seeking an authentic Maltese experience steeped in folklore.

Travel to the village involves a scenic transition from the main island of Malta. The nearest airport is Malta International Airport (MLA), located approximately 30 kilometers away. Upon landing, travelers typically take a 45-minute drive or shuttle to the Cirkewwa Ferry Terminal, followed by a 25-minute ferry crossing to Mgarr Harbor in Gozo. From the harbor, Xagħra is a short 10-minute drive, ensuring that while the village feels like a secluded paradise, it remains well-connected to international travel hubs.
