Positioned on the edge of a peaceful village and surrounded by the characteristic Mediterranean landscape, the property provides an ideal setting for year-round living, holiday use, or tourist rental opportunities.

Poreč is one of Croatia's most sought-after coastal destinations, known for its unique blend of preserved natural beauty, rich cultural heritage, and excellent quality of life. The area is famous for its crystal-clear Adriatic Sea, beautiful beaches, picturesque bays, pine forests, and charming old town atmosphere. The city is also home to the UNESCO-listed Euphrasian Basilica and offers a well-developed infrastructure, modern amenities, sports facilities, and a vibrant lifestyle throughout the year.

This charming detached house has a total living area of 200 m² and sits on an impressive land plot of 2,324 m², providing extensive outdoor space with numerous possibilities for landscaping, gardening, leisure areas, or additional amenities.

Originally built in 1905 and renovated in 2024, the property successfully combines traditional character with updated functionality. The house is arranged over two levels: the ground floor and a high attic, and contains two separate residential units.

The ground floor apartment consists of an entrance hallway, a comfortable living room, kitchen with dining area, one bedroom, bathroom, separate toilet, and two storage rooms, creating a practical and independent living space.

The upper apartment, located in the high attic, features an entrance hall, spacious living room, kitchen with dining area, bathroom, separate toilet, four bedrooms, a balcony, and a covered terrace with pleasant open views.

Additional value is provided by two garages located below the residential area, offering secure parking and extra storage space.

With its generous plot size, peaceful location, and proximity to Poreč and the Adriatic coast, this property represents an excellent opportunity for family living, a holiday residence, or a real estate investment in Istria.
