Biscarrosse is a town on the Atlantic coast of southwest France. It's known for its lakes and beaches. Maguide and Navarrosse beaches dot the shoreline of the vast, shallow north lake, along with the water slides of AquaPark. On the south lake, vintage seaplanes are on display at the Musee de l'Hydraviation. Cycle paths and trails cross the surrounding forests and dunes to wide, sandy surf beaches like Vivier Beach.

ABOUT THE AREA

Lying a few kilometres south of the Arcachon Bay and Pilat Dune, Biscarrosse has communication facilities that make it one of its visitors' favourites in all seasons. With its 19,308 hectares, the commune provides its inhabitants with a pleasant life style, particularly with its 13,000 hectares of forest land and 3,200 hectares of lakes.
Biscarrosse is a town of 15,000 inhabitants. It has 3 main areas:

Ocean beach
Town
Lakes

The distinctive feature of Biscarrosse is the variety of natural sites. Vast white, fine sand ocean beaches, incomparable clear freshwater lakes, majestic pine forests that stretch between dunes and valleys, offering a unique panorama of the lakes and Atlantic ocean.

Biscarrosse is privileged to be the only resort on the Landes coastline to offer such a viewpoint. You will be mesmerised by the beauty of the area, offering a total change of scenery. This complete communion with the environment, combined with one of the highest number of days of sunshine make Biscarrosse the epitome of nature leisure resorts.

How could we not also speak about the dozens of kilometres or so of bike paths and trails winding among the dune forest and ocean beaches.

Many sites recount the history of Biscarrosse over the centuries. The fortified church of Saint Martin of the 14th and 15th centuries. 14th century Montbron Castle, which hosted an English garrison of the Prince of Wales and Prince of Aquitaine, known as the Black Prince, during the occupation of Aquitaine by the English.

7 km from the town-centre, Biscarrosse Lake has residential hamlets, sheltering the ports of Maguide and Navarrosse, as well as the golf course.

Biscarrosse has three lakes joined by a canal:

• Biscarrosse - Cazaux - Sanguinet (North lake) lake offers a number of swimming and water sports activities
• The small lake, more unspoilt and protected,
