Nestled in the breathtaking region of Penta-di-Casinca on the eastern coast of Corsica, this exceptional mobile home offers a rare opportunity to own a turnkey Mediterranean holiday retreat. Combining coastal relaxation with authentic island charm, the property is situated within a peaceful community setting that effortlessly blends mountain landscapes with sandy Tyrrhenian beaches. Whether you are looking for an idyllic family getaway or a high-comfort retreat, this home provides an unbeatable lifestyle package in one of France's most captivating natural regions.

Pristine History & Maintenance Condition

Originally installed brand new in 2005, this property stands out due to its meticulous history of owner-only usage. It has been used exclusively by the owners for approximately one month per year and has never been offered as a commercial rental. This light, careful usage has preserved the integrity of both the structural elements and interior fittings over the years.

To ensure the property remains in peak condition, it underwent complete exterior servicing and fresh repainting. Updated modern infrastructure ensures year-round comfort, including a high-efficiency inverter air conditioning system (hot & cold) installed, an updated refrigerator, and an external washing machine with only two years of light use. Flawlessly maintained, thoroughly modern, and fully furnished, this residence arrives on the market in pristine condition, completely ready for immediate occupation.

Thoughtfully Designed Interior & Outdoor Living

The internal floor plan maximizes comfort, natural light, and functional living space. At the heart of the home is a spacious open-plan kitchen and living area equipped with an integrated oven, a sleek modern refrigerator, and ample storage. The central dining table effortlessly converts into a comfortable double bed, offering extra sleeping capacity for guests when needed.

Accommodation includes two dedicated private bedrooms tailored for families or hosting visitors. The primary bedroom features a standard double bed paired with a built-in wardrobe, while the secondary bedroom is fitted with sturdy twin bunk beds and dedicated closet storage. The main indoor bathroom includes a walk-in shower, washbasin, and WC.

Outdoor living is central to the Corsican lifestyle, and this property delivers with exceptional exterior facilities. A fully covered wooden veranda functions as an extended outdoor living and dining room, perfect for alfresco meals shielded from the afternoon sun. Outside, a private exterior shower provides ultimate convenience when returning directly from nearby sandy beaches. Additional utility amenities include an external gas bottle and water heater cabinet, alongside a dedicated rear storage unit housing the laundry facilities.

Prime Location & Airport Access

Penta-di-Casinca is a historic commune in Haute-Corse renowned for its perched medieval village, rich agricultural heritage, and beautiful stretches of coastline along the Folelli plain. Owners enjoy seamless access to local markets, traditional Corsican eateries, hiking trails, and aquatic sports along the Mediterranean shore.

Travel logistics are remarkably convenient for international owners and visiting guests. The nearest major airport is Bastia-Poretta Airport (BIA), located just 10 to 14 kilometers north—an easy 15-minute drive from the property. Frequent direct flights connect Bastia to major cities across France and continental Europe, making spontaneous weekend escapes or extended summer holidays completely effortless.

ABOUT THE AREA

Penta-di-Casinca is a picturesque commune located on the French island of Corsica, within the Haute-Corse department. Perched roughly 400 meters above sea level on a dramatic rocky spur, the historic hilltop village offers sweeping panoramic views of the Mediterranean Sea and the lush, surrounding valley below. Its rich heritage, preserved architecture, and stunning natural setting earned the village an official designation as a 'picturesque site of Corsica'.

The commune stretches from the mountains down to the coast, encompassing both the historic perched village and lower coastal settlements like Folelli. Visitors can wander through narrow stone-paved streets, explore traditional Corsican stone homes, and discover local historic landmarks, such as charming centuries-old churches. Below the hilltop village, the municipal coastline provides access to several kilometers of sandy beaches along the eastern edge of the island.

Economically and culturally, the region is known for its agricultural roots, particularly the cultivation of citrus fruits like clementines and pomelos, as well as vineyards and livestock farming. The area acts as an ideal base for outdoor enthusiasts who want to enjoy both mountain and sea activities, with local trails offering hiking and biking routes alongside opportunities for water sports down by the coast.

Travelers looking to reach Penta-di-Casinca benefit from its convenient proximity to major transport hubs. The nearest airport is Bastia-Poretta Airport (BIA), situated approximately 10 to 14 kilometers (around a 15-minute drive) north of the municipality.
