Scilla is a small village of approx. 4,500 inhabitants in the province of Reggio Calabria, one of the prettiest and most characteristic in Italy, standing on a high rocky spur overlooking the sea. An important tourist centre on the Costa Viola, so called because of the colour the waters take on at certain times of the day, Scilla boasts an ancient Castle leaning against the coast, colourful little houses, an enchanting panorama. Scilla was recently included by CNN in the list of the Most Beautiful Villages in Italy with the village of Chianalea, also called "Little Venice".
