Ideal for sustainable living, rural tourism, or a nature-based retreat, this property offers tranquility, abundant water, and multiple development opportunities.

Key Features

Renovated Taipa Cottage (85 m²)
Fully restored in 2020 using natural and sustainable techniques, this traditional Taipa (rammed earth) home combines rustic charm with modern comfort:
South-facing layout for passive solar heating
Wood-fired central heating (radiators in all rooms)
Solar hot water + rainwater catchment system
High thermal performance with cork insulation and breathable lime plaster
Vaulted timber roof with double-glazed hardwood windows
Open-plan kitchen living area, luxury bathroom (with Jacuzzi), and spacious bedroom with option to divide

4 Ruins for Renovation (260 m²)

Four registered stone ruins, ideal for restoration into guest houses, rental units, workshops, or residential expansion. Zoned for Rural Tourism with build potential up to 6,000 m².

Water & Land Resources

Abundant water: Borehole (7 m³ h), 2 clean wells, seasonal river, and a 2,500 m³ man-made lake

Fertile valley land perfect for orchards, vegetable gardens, and permaculture

200m river frontage along the eastern boundary

Forests & Income Potential

4.5 ha of Pine Forest (annual pine nut income: 7,000/15,000)

1 ha of Mature Cork Oak (harvest every 9 years)

Forest management provides firewood and supports land regeneration

Optional: Tourism Units

Two fully equipped glamping-style units (Gypsy Caravan + Converted Bus) available on request. Each includes a kitchen, bathroom, living area, and private outdoor space.
