Descrizione:

Numandi is an exclusive residential community in Playa Avellanas, Costa Rica, offering 80 single-story homes nestled within a lush, surfside forest environment. Master-planned by Gensler and built around sustainability, each titled lot is tailored to its natural surroundings. Residences are pre-construction and priced from $807,000 USD, with 3-5 bedroom options ranging from 4,036 to 5,565 sq ft. The community offers world-class amenities including a family pool, gym, tennis and padel courts, coworking spaces, and an open-air cinema. With environmentally conscious infrastructure, modular architecture, and premium finishes, Numandi is designed for those seeking harmony with nature and long-term lifestyle value.

Nestled in the lush coastal forest of Playa Avellanas, Numandi is an architecturally visionary, eco-conscious residential community where nature shapes design. Master-planned by globally renowned firm Gensler, this private, gated development features 80 single-story homes integrated seamlessly into the surrounding landscape, offering a lifestyle rooted in sustainability, privacy, and wellness.

Each residence is designed to adapt to its specific lot conditions, with modular architecture that minimizes environmental impact while maximizing comfort and style. Homes are equipped with modern infrastructure including a 4,500-liter water capture tank and pump system, sealed roofs ready for green roof installations, and on-site wastewater treatment systems that recycle greywater for irrigation. Residents enjoy professional landscaping, high-speed internet, 24/7 security, and full utility servicing. Monthly HOA fees range from $400 to $600 USD, ensuring ongoing care and maintenance of common areas and community amenities.

Numandi is more than a home; it's a holistic lifestyle experience. Thoughtfully curated community features include a family pool, gym, coworking spaces, tennis and padel courts, futbol 5 field, grilling ranchos, and an open-air cinema—designed to promote connection, wellness, and a slower, more intentional pace of life.

Homes are offered pre-construction on individually titled lots, with 3-, 4-, and 5-bedroom layouts ranging from 375 m2 to 517 m2 of livable space (approx. 4,036 to 5,565 sq ft). Pricing begins at $807,000 USD, with each home fully customized in collaboration with the architectural team.
