Descrizione:

Located in a quiet and private environment, this traditional Andalusian-style villa enjoys open views of the Mediterranean Sea and the coast of the Axarquía. A residence that combines spaciousness, comfort and outdoor spaces designed to enjoy the climate of the area all year round.

The house stands out for its solid construction, its generous rooms and a functional layout. The living room and the open kitchen offer comfortable spaces for daily life, while the finishes and the excellent state of conservation allow you to enjoy the house without the need for interventions. In addition, it has air conditioning in all rooms and central heating, guaranteeing a pleasant temperature at any time of the year.

One of its main attractions is the spacious covered terrace, with wooden beams and views of the landscape, which provides a pleasant space for shade during the summer months. Its connection to the garden, pool and barbecue area allows you to take advantage of the outdoors both for relaxation and for gatherings with family and friends.

The garden, with palm trees and Mediterranean vegetation, is carefully conditioned to offer a pleasant environment without requiring excessive maintenance. The layout of the plot also guarantees good privacy in its different spaces.

The house also has a guest room with its own bathroom and independent access, a particularly practical feature for receiving visitors while maintaining the privacy of each one.

Another unique element is its tower, whose upper space offers the possibility of adapting to different needs, such as a reading area, a study or a workspace.

The complex is completed with covered parking and an auxiliary construction that provides additional space.

The town also has a consolidated track record in holiday rentals, an activity that generates interesting income thanks, in large part, to a loyal clientele that returns year after year. A circumstance that highlights its attractiveness and represents an added value for those who seek to combine private use with the obtaining of tourist income.

An exclusive villa that brings together privacy, views of the Mediterranean and large outdoor spaces, with the additional attraction of an already consolidated tourist activity. An opportunity to enjoy Mediterranean life and, at the same time, take advantage of its potential as an investment.
