Omschrijving:

Walking down Fife Road, it is easy to mistaken this graceful street for that of in London. The red brick terraced properties are imposing and beautiful, standing just as proudly today as they would have done many years ago.

Needless to say, if you are a lover of period property then we may have found you your fantastic new home. Upon entering this family home, you are greeted by a warm and welcoming interior. To the right, a generously proportioned sitting room creates the perfect place for the family to gather. Throughout the day a stunning panelled bay window floods the space with light. Come evening, this beautiful room turns comfortable and cosy as the family nestle around the stove watching their favourite movie with a hot choc. Behind this is an equally spacious dining room with another stunning feature fireplace, creating a fantastic place to host Christmas day!

To the rear, a practical yet stylish kitchen can be found with Karndean flooring and granite worktops throughout no expense has been spared in creating this family hub.

On the first floor, you find two large double bedrooms both flooded with light from large windows. The third and smaller bedroom would be perfect for a home office or nursery. The spacious family bathroom has been designed with the properties heritage in mind and features a stunning claw-foot freestanding bath.

On the second floor, you find a further two bedrooms both serviced by a shower room.

Outside, a West facing courtyard makes the most of the evening sun. A perfect space for those wanting that indoor/outdoor living with low maintenance.

The vendor loves: This beautiful home has been an asset to the family, positioned on a lovely street.

We love: Properties on this street do not often come up, and this one will certainly not hang around!
