A little over an hour from OR Tambo International Airport.

The only big 5 game reserve in Gauteng, offering nearby lodges and restaurants, self game drive routes. Peaceful country style living.

Landowners can get traversing rights via a permit on the self game drive route.

Active Community policing forum, means a very secure environment. Voluntary game rangers join the professional Anti poaching team to protect the big 5 game.

Landowners pay a levy which goes to the upkeep of the reserve.

ABOUT THE AREA

The Dinokeng Game Reserve is a large wildlife sanctuary in the province of Gauteng, South Africa, and can be accessed via the arterial N1 route. It is a 40-minute drive from Pretoria or some 75 minutes from the O. R. Tambo Airport and Johannesburg.

Gauteng (pronounced how-teng) may be a small province but it also is the economic heart of the nation. its epicentre is Johannesburg (Jo'burg or Jozi), the country's largest city. And what a city! Jo'burg's old downtown area is undergoing an astonishing rebirth. Once considered a place to avoid, Jo'burg is now one of the most inspiring and happening metropolises in the world.

For a change of scene, head to Pretoria. The country's administrative capital may not be quite as dynamic as Jo'burg, but it still offers stately buildings, good museums and beautiful jacaranda-lined streets. it is also a short drive from here to the attractive village of Cullinan, famous for its diamond mine.

Gauteng also has a unique geological history that's evident at the World Heritage-listed Cradle of Humankind. This vast valley full of caves and fossils is one of the African continent's most important archaeological sites.
