About the Area

Avgorou is a municipal district of the Municipality of Ayia Napa in southwestern Famagusta District, Cyprus. It is located near Frenaros, Sotira, Liopetri and Ormidia. Avgorou is one of the bigger suburbs in Famagusta area. It is situated south-west of the occupied city of Famagusta and borders with the Green Line that separates the island into two.

The residents of the village mainly are farmers and are known for the growing of potatoes, vegetables and citrus fruits. A lot of other residents work in the tourist sector and other local businesses. Being a village with very long history a lot of monuments can be found, from the time of the king of Salamina, Evagoras. Also a number of classical and old houses, with unique architectural designs can be found here.

Come and get lost in the ONLY hedge maze in Cyprus! Over 600 m of twisting paths in between tall hedges, take you to another dimension, CAN YOU FIND YOUR WAY OUT? 2000 sqm of 'green' fun for all the family. Designed for kids and adults alike, a great way to spend an afternoon, trying to solve the puzzles.

Endless blue-sky days and a coastline riddled with sandy pockets helped transform this village into the Mediterranean's summer clubbing capital in the 1990s. Hundreds of clubs and bars set up shop to cater for hedonist-seeking crowds flocking here between June and August and, a couple of decades on, for young Europeans from London to Moscow, Napa (as many visitors refer to it) is still where the party is at its hardest.
