ABOUT THE AREA

New Capital City, also known as Al-Administrative Capital, is a rapidly developing city located east of Cairo, Egypt. This ambitious project aims to create a new administrative and commercial hub for the country, relieving the pressure on the overcrowded capital city.

The New Capital City boasts a modern and sustainable design, with wide streets, green spaces, and state-of-the-art infrastructure. The city is being built around a central business district, which will house government offices, corporate headquarters, and international organizations.

One of the key attractions of the New Capital City is its cultural and entertainment offerings. The city will feature a grand opera house, a museum complex, and a variety of parks and recreational facilities. Residents and visitors can also enjoy shopping at the luxurious malls and dining at the diverse range of restaurants.

The New Capital City is strategically located near Cairo International Airport, making it easily accessible for both domestic and international travelers. The city is also connected to Cairo by a new high-speed rail line, providing a convenient transportation option for commuters.
