Mexilhoeira Grande is a Portuguese town and parish in the municipality of Portimão, with an area of 88.41 km<sup>2</sup> and 4,029 inhabitants (2011). Its population density is 45.6 inhabitants km<sup>2</sup>.

It borders the following parishes: Monchique (N), Portimão (E), Alvor (S), Odiáxere (O), Bensafrim (O) and Marmeleira (NO).

Located north of Portimão, Mexilhoeira Grande, a rural land, with white houses, trodden by alleys, has traditional handicrafts and agriculture as the main activities of its people.

It is also in this parish that the Autódromo Internacional do Algarve is located. It is located in a rural area, about 6 km north of the center of the parish. Access is via a variant of the EN125. It is served by a station on the Algarve Line.

Mexilhoeira Grande is a very old village, whose origin can be traced back to the extension of the Neolithic and Chalcolithic settlements of Monte Canelas and Alcalar."

The institution of the parish seems to date back to the sixteenth century, when the current parish church was built. Around 1446, it should already be a village of some importance because, according to the chronicler Gomes de Zurara, Prince Henry the Navigator was here at that time. - REF: PE014 MG
