About the Area

Puerto Princesa is a coastal city on Palawan Island in the western Philippines. It's a base for boat trips through the massive limestone caves and underground river of the biodiverse Puerto Princesa Subterranean River National Park. Dive sites are dotted around Puerto Princesa Bay, home to long-nosed dolphins, turtles and rays. Close to the port is the 19th-century Immaculate Concepcion Cathedral.

Discover the natural wonders in Palawan's capital, Puerto Princesa, home of the famed Underground River. Find out the top attractions and things to do, learn the best time to go and how to get there. Puerto Princesa in Palawan is most famous for the Puerto Princesa Subterranean River National Park or the Underground River, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and holds a place in the New7Wonders of Nature.

It is also the gateway to famous paradise-like destinations in Palawan like El Nido and San Vicente because it has its own international airport. But there's more to Puerto Princesa than being just a jump-off site and location to the famous natural wonder.

Puerto Princesa, also known as The City in a Forest, is rich in various unknown but must-see tourist spots and exciting tours and activities, including the must-try Puerto Princesa Underground River tour that make it worth a visit for more than just a day. You can choose to visit its historical sights, natural parks, outdoor adventure spots, and shopping centers. It also has several islands and Palawan beaches for island-hopping adventures where you can eat the freshest seafood.

The best time to go to the island is during the dry and summer season from November to May. There's less chance of rainfall from April to June, which means you get to enjoy the majority of inland and water activities on the island.
