Omschrijving:

Stunning 1210-acre hunting reserve with Organic Farm, 1800s country hamlet, and farmhouses for sale in Maremma, Grosseto. It is a land with great growth possibilities whose key to success is preserving its nature and traditional Tuscan country lifestyle. With an extension of more than 1210 acres (490 hectares) of private land mainly dedicated to certified organic cultivation and breeding, including a unique fully fenced private hunting reserve with wild boar, roe deer, hares, pheasants, partridges, and wood pigeons. A very temperate climate in every season, a torrent and natural springs providing animals with constant nourishment and numerous natural water collection tanks, called troscioni, where the animals are used to drink and, during the passage of migratory birds, become a centuries-old staging point. Heart of the estate is a 19th-century country hamlet with a manor residence, a private chapel, an old school, and several annexes, dominating the entire estate and stunning open panoramas with endless views. At 700m to a 1-mile distance, six further detached farmhouses with outbuildings are to be recovered and transformed into apartments, villas, and prestigious residences for tourist hospitality. A unique estate with multiple potentials for expansion and development, both in tourism-retail, breeding, and organic farming.
