Omschrijving:

It offers land classified urbanistically as a private facility, which allows the development of a wide variety of projects. Permitted uses include educational or university centres, sports facilities, collective residences, cultural or leisure facilities, health or healthcare centres, administrative spaces or technology and research parks, among others.

The urban planning regulations also contemplate other uses such as public accommodation, religious, cultural or historical-artistic facilities, as well as certain public services.

Currently, the specific building conditions such as buildability, height or construction typology will have to be specified through the drafting of a Special Urban Plan (PEU), which will make it possible to define the specific project to be developed on the site. These conditions can be established taking the urban characteristics of the environment as a reference.

One of the main advantages is that it is not necessary to wait for the approval of a new general urban planning, since, through the processing of the corresponding Special Urban Plan, it is possible to develop and build the facility.

It is, therefore, an excellent opportunity for investors, developers or institutions that want to develop a facility project on urban land with multiple possibilities of use.
