Omschrijving:

If you're looking for a character home in southwest France with space, charm, and conversion potential, this 4-bedroom stone house on the Lot–Dordogne border could be perfect.

Situated in a friendly village with a café / restaurant within walking distance, the property combines traditional French village life with easy access to Souillac (15 minutes), the Dordogne Valley, and local markets.

Inside, you'll find two bright living areas, one opening onto a terrace with open countryside views, a fitted kitchen with plenty of natural light, and a recently renovated shower room. The four double bedrooms retain their original wooden floors and exposed beams, giving the home an authentic rustic feel.

The property also includes a large attic and a detached barn ready for conversion (subject to permissions) — ideal for creating a guest house, gîte, or studio.

Whether you're dreaming of a family home, holiday retreat, or gîte project, this charming property offers excellent potential in a sought-after area of southwest France, close to the Dordogne, river activities, and beautiful historic villages.
